EDITOR'S NOTE

This International Studbook for Sumatran Rhinoceros (Dicerorhinus sumatrensis) includes only specimens that have been in captivity during the period 1984-1994, i.e. the recent program organized under the Species Survival Commission (SSC) of IUCN - The World Conservation Union to propagate this species as part of the global strategy for its conservation. Subsequent editions of the Studbook may attempt to include information on specimens that were in captivity prior to 1984 but have no descendants surviving to the present. For information on such specimens, the reader is referred to:

Reynolds, R.J. 1961. Asian Rhinos in Captivity. INTERNATIONAL ZOO YEARBOOK 2: 17-42.

Rookmaaker, L.C. and Reynolds, R.J. 1985. Additional Data on Rhinoceroses in Captivity. DER ZOOLOGISCHER GARTEN (N.F.) 55: 129-158.

Future editions will include information on capture locations of the Sumatran rhinos in captivity 1984-1994.

Facilities maintaining Sumatran rhino are requested to review the enclosed information and advise the Studbook Keeper of changes in a timely manner. Your cooperation is appreciated.

INTERNATIONAL STUDBOOK

SUMATRAN RHINO

31 January 1994

Since compilation of the Studbook through 31 December 1994, there have been two further significant changes in the captive population of Sumatran Rhino.

- (1) San Diego Zoo euthanised their female Studbook Number 25 on 22 February 1995. This rhino had been deteriorating in condition for some time. Her weight at death was ~ 400 kg. The diagnosed cause of death was chronic interstitial nephritis (kidney disease). Also note her house name is now reported to be Barakas not Kumu as previously stated in the Studbook.
- (2) San Diego Zoo also lost their male Studbook Number 35, house name Tanjung, on 26 February 1995. The cause of death was a 360° torsion of the cecum.
