

IUVENALIS

Satira

liber VII. 129-130.

129 sic Pedro conturbat, Matho deficit, exitus hic est
130 Tongilii, magno cum rhinoceroti lavari
qui solet et vexat lutulenta balnea turba.

English translation by G.G. Ramsay, 1928

That is how Pedro becomes bankrupt, and how Matho fails; and such will be the end of Tongilkius, who frequents the baths with a huge oilflask of rhinoceros horn, and disturbs the bathers with a mob of dirty retainers.