

Iulius CAPITOLINUS

Antonius Pius

liber X. 8-9

Edita munera, in quibus elephantos, & crocutas, & tigrides, & rhinocerotas, & crocodilos etiam atque hippopotamos, & omnia ex toto orbe terrarum eum tigridibus exhibuit.

Translated by David Magie, 1921

He held games [in 148] at which he displayed elephants and the animals called corocottae and tigers and rhinoceroses, even crocodiles and hippopotami, in short, all the animals of the whole earth; and he presented at a single performance as many as a hundred lions together with tigers.
