

ALL DONE BY KINDNESS: THE YOUNG RHINOCEROS LEARNS MANNERS.

This baby Rhino was caught and tamed by Mr. C. B. Goss, the well-known big game hunter, in Tanganyika, and was at first so "Kali" (fierce or bad-tempered) and created such havoc in the camp that no native "boy" could be induced to attend to him. However, he soon became good friends with his captor and is here seen enjoying his daily ration of milk. Mr. Goss was charged by four Rhinos and in shooting same captured this little one.
