AGARD THE FLOATING PALACE

Which has been purchased by Mr. Van Amburgh at enormous expense, and remodeled and renovated expressly for a short Tour in the Valley of the Mississippi, so as to give the Residents of this section the only, and probably last, opportunity of viewing his Collection; and particularly to afford the Young here the rare spectacle of the most extensive human forests cultivated and controlled by the will of the most wonderful man living. As Mr. Van Amburgh contemplates retiring upon the farm he has acquired in Europe and this Country, and as it is not reasonable to suppose that an extensive and superb Collection will ever again be brought together, in either the Eastern or Western Hemisphere—and if collected, could only reach the river Texas by this country route—it is not presumptuous to assume that this Zoological Tour will excite universal interest.

The Palace is remodeled and re-embellished, with Deas resembling the native Jungles of the Animals, and with tasteful and elegant Alcees, resembling the celebrated Royal Conservatories in London and Paris—constituting agreeably with the uncouth wagons in which Animals have heretofore been exhibited.

Besides the Palace, Mr. Van Amburgh has just caused to be constructed two elegant Steamers—the James Kayson, as a consort for the Palace, and for the conveyance of his Beast Hunters, Keepers, and Assistants in Training; experiments; the other, called the GAZELLE, only 60 feet long, expressly for his Agent, who will precede the Establishment several weeks, announcing its approach and the day of its arrival.

At a proper period during each Entertainment,

Mr. VAN AMBURGH
Will Enter the dens
