RHINO ARK OBJECTIVES

Rhino Ark seeks solutions to the challenges facing the mountain forest ecosystems of Kenya, also known as the water towers. More specifically, Rhino Ark aims to:

- (i) Protect Kenya's mountain forests, other threatened habitats and their rich biodiversity;
- (ii) Engage and educate adjacent communities in conservation;
- (iii) Secure the connectivity between mountain forests and other threatened wildlife habitats;
- (iv) Establish sustainable financing mechanisms for the conservation of mountain forests and other threatened wildlife habitats;
- (v) Advocate nationally and internationally for the conservation of the mountain forests and other threatened habitats, their wildlife and their ecological functions; and,
- (vi) Use science to assess the impacts of, and review conservation interventions.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR'S VIEW

CHRISTIAN LAMBRECHTS

Since our establishment 31 years ago, INNOVATION has been one of the defining characteristics of our conservation approach. Initially, the focus was on addressing the rampant poaching of the endangered black rhinos inside the Aberdare National Park and reducing human-wildlife conflicts on neighbouring farmlands. Construction and management of a game-proof electric fence proved to be very effective in addressing these twin challenges, and is now widely used in many parts of the country and abroad. In those days, it was a novel concept involving innovative technologies.

The development and promotion of innovative solutions to the continued and evolving challenges facing the conservation of our montane forests and other threatened wildlife habitats remains at the heart of Rhino Ark's conservation work.

During the past few years, emerging technologies have been further developed and are being implemented by Rhino Ark in collaboration with key partners.

On Mt. Kenya, we are finalizing the implementation of the patrol monitoring system, together with ESRI, the world's largest mapping software company. The system will provide real-time information on where patrol teams are and where they have been. This will enable managers to check how effective patrols are. It will also show all past and recent incidents, facilitating the detection of hotspot areas. This will provide a means to improve efficiency.

Also on Mt. Kenya, on the Electric Fence project, two one-way automatic elephant gates have been constructed with support from the Wildlife Conservation Society and the Mount Kenya Trust. They enable elephants coming from the north, from Shaba and Isiolo, to enter the forest whilst preventing the exit of elephants from the forest. These are the first gates of this type ever built!

In Eburu, a new fence monitoring system has just been installed on the 43.3-km long electric fence. The system provides real-time information on the voltage on each of the fence sections and sends alerts to the fence management team when a voltage drop occurs. This is the first such system installed in Kenya.

Over time, as conservation challenges evolve, new solutions and technologies are called for. Rhino Ark will remain at the forefront of exploring these solutions and working with partners to successfully implement measures that enhance conservation of precious ecosystems.

AUTOXPRESS IN SUPPORT OF THE RHINO ARK CHARITABLE TRUST FOR THE FOURTH YEAR

The Rhino Ark Charitable Trust's success over the years in the preservation of water towers and wildlife habitats through its various projects has motivated AutoXpress to continuously support these environmental conservation efforts by the Trust.

AutoXpress is cognizant of the great work being undertaken by Rhino Ark through the various projects including the Aberdare fence project, Mt Kenya fence project, Eburu fence project, S.W Mau project and Kakamega fence project. It also admires how Rhino Ark has evolved and expanded over the years to include the support of various community-based conservation initiatives that are designed to offer long-term solutions to the conservation of mountain forest ecosystems. All these conservation efforts by Rhino Ark are evident and a testament that has motivated AutoXpress to contribute an equivalent of KES 5 million worth of tyres used by Rhino Ark officials in carrying out their operations for the last four years.

Lastly, AutoXpress congratulates the Rhino Charge competitors and winners of the year 2019 for the great work done. Congratulations to Mark Glen and team, car number 48, for being the overall winner, Jeremy Holley and team, car number 33, as the second overall winners and Anthony Havelock and team, car number 42, as the third overall winners. Hats off to the highest fundraiser, Mr. Peter Kinyua, car number 23, for raising the KES 19 million.

More so, we commend the great job done by Rhino Ark in organizing an amazing event that helped raise over KES 156 million which will go a long way in protecting the water towers and ecosystems. We look forward to an even better year 2020.

(d) Foreign currency transactions

Transactions during the year are converted into Kenya Shillings at the rates ruling at the transaction dates. Assets and liabilities at the reporting date, which are expressed in foreign currencies, are translated at the rates ruling at that date. The resulting differences from conversion and translation are dealt with in the income and expenditure account.

(e) Financial instruments

A financial instrument is a contract that gives rise to both a financial asset of one enterprise and a financial liability of another enterprise. The financial instruments held by the Trust are investments in the money market, trade and other receivables, bank balances and cash and trade and other payables.

All the financial instruments held by the Trust are accounted for on amortised cost basis.

(f) Receivables

Receivables are stated at nominal value, less provision for any amounts considered irrecoverable.

(g) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash at bank and in hand and short term deposits with an original maturity of three months or less.

(h) Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements requires that management makes estimates and assumptions that affect amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from these estimates. The more significant estimation process is related to the determination of provision for doubtful debts. Although some variability is inherent in these estimates, management believes that the amounts provided are adequate.

(i) Investments

Investments are held in the money market with Old Mutual and Britam asset managers. Interest is earned on a monthly basis from these placements and rolled over as principal.

(j) Payables

Payables are stated at nominal value.

CHAIRMAN'S REPORT FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31 MARCH 2019

The year 2018 was marked by celebrating 30 years of Rhino Ark Kenya Charitable Trust (Rhino Ark) and the annual Rhino Charge. Rhino Ark not only owes its success to the Rhino Ark team, but also to a large number of supporters who through Rhino Charge are a key part of the Trust, its strategic partners, forest-adjacent communities, schools and the general public for their continued and unwavering support.

Rhino Ark continues to make an invaluable contribution to securing the ecological integrity and sustainability of Kenya's mountain forests and other threatened wildlife habitats, in line with its core mandate. This role was seen during the support for fighting wildfires in Mt Kenya and Aberdares earlier this year.

To date, over 620 kilometres (kms) of electric fence has been completed. This includes a 400 km long fence around the Aberdares and a 43 km long perimeter fence around Eburu Forest. It also includes a 185 km of the ongoing Mt Kenya Electric Fence which will be about 450 km long when completed – the longest in Kenya, and possibly the longest conservation electric fence in the world.

These fences are protecting some 80,000 households from the threat of human/wildlife conflict. They have resulted in improved farmland security and safer living conditions. Today, along those fences, forest-adjacent communities can live in harmony with the forests and their wildlife, and the forests are better protected from illegal activities.

Overall funds 2018/19

The total funds raised during the financial year under review were KES 383.44 million. This included in-cash donations amounting to KES 227.16 million (KES 179.07 in 2018) from Rhino Charge, corporates, individuals and other donors and in-kind donations amounting to KES 156.28 million, from the Government, various corporates and individuals.

The 2018 Rhino Charge exceeded all expectations and raised a total of KES 181.4 million or approximately USD 1.81 million.

The top ten fund raisers were Peter Kinyua, Car 23 (KES 24,770,681); McKittrick / Knight / Ray / Smith / Bouvard / Car 5 (KES 21,030,381); Adil Khawaja / AK44 (KES 16,217,000); Stanley Kinyanjui / Magnate Chargers (KES 10,540,500); Tim Carstens / Team Aussie Rules KES 6,970,800; Mark Tilbury / Hog Charge Team (KES 4,363,847); Glen / Llewellyn / Team 48 (KES 4,110,063); Don White / Team One (KES 3,359,976); Jaspal Matharu / Fat Rhinos (KES 3,055,000); Peter Francombe / Shaun Miller / Team 40 Roving Rogues (KES 2,825,142).

The National Treasury through Kenya Wildlife Service (KWS) was a major donor providing KES 58 million for fence materials. As those funds were not channelled through our accounts, they are not reflected in our balance sheets, although they are earmarked in support of our fence projects in Mt. Kenya.

In addition, the Kenya Rural Road Authority has committed approximately KES 12 million towards the construction of four animal grids along the Mt. Kenya Electric Fence in the Imenti Forest.

In addition, KWS covered the costs of the personnel maintaining the 400 km Aberdare Fence and the 185 km Mt. Kenya Fence already built whilst Kenya Forest Service covered such costs for the 43.3 km Eburu Fence. These contributions amounted to KES 25.8 million.

Corporate / conservation bodies support

Corporate and consensual grant supporters continued positively.

I would like to acknowledge the following organisations that have made generous cash contributions:

- IDH Sustainable Trade Initiative for donating Euros 11,930 for the activities of the Bongo Surveillance Programme (BSP).
- Safaricom Foundation for donating KES 10 million and Mount Kenya Trust donating KES 6 million for combatting the fires at Mt. Kenya and Aberdares.
- Rare Species Conservatory Foundation (RSCF) for donating USD 56,000 in support of the conservation of the Mountain Bongo antelope.

Eburu Rafiki for donating KES 4,332,500 in support of grassroots education outreach. This includes funds from African Fund for Endangered Wildlife (AFEW) amounting to KES 4 million.

Wider Mau Eburu conservation well underway

The on-going model schools tree nurseries project, an initiative supported by the MPESA Foundation continues to grow. The two additional schools that established the tree nurseries in the year 2018 are Munanda and Tangi Tano Primary schools in Kiambogo location.

The grassroots educational outreach work is still on-going. The funding support for the outreach series was provided by Eburu Rafiki, in partnership with Rhino Ark.

Implementation of conservation education in 32 Eburu forest-adjacent schools has been on-going since 2014. The ultimate goal is to cultivate positive behaviour change among young generation towards the protection and sustainable management of Eburu forest. Some of the key outcomes of the initiative were: increased tree covers in schools, enhanced pupils' performance in environmental related subjects, growth in income generating projects in schools such as tree nurseries and bee keeping and emergence of community conservation champions among others.

Rhino Ark has worked to facilitate exposure of the forest-adjacent communities to biogas as an alternative source of energy and to encourage its adoption. This initiative is aimed at reducing the reliance of the forest-adjacent communities on forest-derived fuel-wood, hence propagating sustainable conservation of Eburu forest. Biogas is a cleaner, more efficient and renewable energy source.

Mt Kenya fencing project

A coordinated response was put in place to fight the wildfire on the south eastern moorlands of Mt. Kenya where over 20,000 acres of moorlands were burnt.

Private institutions, including the Mount Kenya Trust, Rhino Ark Kenya Charitable Trust, David Sheldrick Wildlife Trust, Mount Kenya Safari Club and Tropicair mobilised their resources from the first day of the fire to help KWS, Kenya Forest Service (KFS) and the local communities in tackling the fire. The amount spent on firefighting was KES 15.2 million.

The success in combating the fires is largely due to the close collaboration between private institutions and government agencies in pulling their respective strengths together in a coordinated manner.

Many lessons were learnt that will help entrench future responses.

A total of 185 kms of the Mount Kenya Electric Fence has been completed. The built fence covers Kirinyaga, Embu and Tharaka Nithi counties and the team is currently working in Meru County. The fence-line within Meru County is anticipated to cover close to a half of the entire 450 kms Mt Kenya fence.

Rhino Ark has received confirmation from the Upper Tana Natural Resources Management Project (UTaNRMP) that the board of International Fund for Agricultural Development (IFAD) will contribute USD 1.4 million to the building of 60 kms of the Mount Kenya Electric Fence. This is the second major contribution that IFAD has made to the project.

The fence building process is constructed under a public-private partnership, involving KWS, KFS, Rhino Ark, the Upper Tana Natural Resources Management Project, Mount Kenya Trust, National Government, County Governments and Community Forest Associations (CFAs).

Aberdare ecosystem

The rehabilitation of Phase I continues, with 30.8 kms completed. As part of the rehabilitation work, Rhino Ark is replacing the gates that are in poor condition. The Phase II rehabilitation continues with 18 kms of the 40 kms rehabilitated.

South Western Mau ecosystem

Under the Initiative for Sustainable Landscape (ISLA), and with funding support from Safaricom Foundation, Rhino Ark is undertaking forest rehabilitation in collaboration with KFS.

An initial 20 hectares at Kipkoris in Ndoinet Forest Station has been rehabilitated.

Raising conservation awareness amongst the youth is a key goal of the South Western Mau Ecosystem Conservation Project. Towards achieving this goal, Rhino Ark has facilitated the development of a comprehensive conservation education curricula for 46 schools (both primary and secondary) found within 8 kms of the forest boundary. These schools lie within the crucial impact zone of forest adjacent communities that relate most closely with the South Western Mau Forest Reserve.

Implementation of teaching of the curricula content commenced in Term 2 of 2019, following completion of training of teachers in the schools and distribution of the curricula to schools. The roll out of this initiative will complement other conservation work by Rhino Ark, by equipping the learners with better understanding of their natural environment and encouraging them to interact sustainably with their habitat.

The Conservation Education programme is fully supported by the Safaricom Foundation and is a key component of the ISLA framework for South West Mau.

Under the ISLA, funding support for bioenterprise has been provided to Rhino Ark by the Safaricom Foundation to support the local communities to maximize on potential market opportunities in production and sale of honey and related products.

Comprehensive practical training for community groups on beekeeping and value addition for the communities was carried out. The training programme has now reached forest adjacent communities along the entire eastern boundary of the forest.

Surveillance flights above the SW Mau revealed improvement in livestock and illegal charcoal production. Rhino Ark, together with KFS and KWS and in partnership with IDH/ISLA and James Finlays Ltd, undertook quarterly aerial surveillance flights above the SW Mau and part of the adjacent Western Mau Forest Reserve.

Bongo Surveillance Programme (BSP) successes

The Aberdare Electric Fence, supported by Rhino Ark, has tremendously helped Kenya Wildlife Service in securing the bongo population in the Aberdare Salient. This population is now the largest in the world and continues to grow.

The Eburu Electric Fence, also supported by Rhino Ark, provides increased security for the small group of bongos residing in the 8,700 hectares forest. This forest will eventually become a Bongo Sanctuary, adding much value to the tourism potential of the ecosystem.

The engagement of the communities in the building and maintenance of the fences, in forest patrols (community scouts), through the development and implementation of conservation curricula, as well as through support to the establishment and running of bongo clubs in schools, is assisting in securing the support of the local communities in the conservation of the bongos and their habitats.

USD 56,000 was received during the year from Rare Species Conservatory Foundation and EUR 11,930 from IDH towards the Bongo Surveillance Programme (BSP). The funds go towards collecting vital information about the Bongo, patrols, removal of snares and spear traps, as well as to the dynamic Bongo wildlife school outreach programmes under BSP.

Other initiatives

Landowners in the proposed Mt Kenya - Aberdares Wildlife Corridor met at the Sangare Wildlife Conservation to discuss legal options to establish the corridor.

Kakamega Forest is the first project spearheaded by Rhino Ark to be implemented in Western Kenya. It is the only tropical rainforest in Kenya and hosts an incredible array of biodiversity. The County Government of Kakamega has made a commitment of KES 100 million and County Government of Vihiga KES 30 million over the next 3 years towards the conservation and protection of Kakamega forest. This will entail fencing Kakamega forest (117 kms), ecotourism development and community conservation education and livelihood improvement.

Thousands to thank

Rhino Ark has an enormous following both in Kenya and overseas as well. Most of the funds received is from the annual Rhino Charge where individual car entrants make substantial pledges and raise even more than their pledge each year. It is a grass roots conservation Trust within the Kenyan society that has now developed a deep foundation. Every donor knows that Rhino Ark's ventures are to secure the nation's precious 'water towers' and to work in partnership with the government to ensure good governance for maximum benefits. Several mountain forest ecosystem valuation studies have been undertaken in Kenya, including the 2011 study triggered by Rhino Ark and with support from UNEP and the Kenya Forests Working Group (KFWG). These studies indicate that each hectare of these mountain forests provides annually environmental good and services (water being the most important), amounting to an average of KES 530,000 per hectare per year. This would value the yearly good and services provided by the entire Aberdares ecosystem at KES 120 billion (USD 1.2 billion).

It is always difficult to single out individuals to give thanks to in a report like this. Rhino Ark has thousands of donors in Kenya and friends overseas who support our home grown and home driven conservation initiative.

I thank all of you for your generous support.

I wish to especially thank the Rhino Charge Committee and the huge band of volunteers who yearly give so much time, thought, ideas and energy to running this unique event.

I would also like to thank the Staff of Rhino Ark and the Board members who continue to provide day to day operational support to keep our organisation going forward.

RHINO ARK NEWS

WORKING ON INNOVATIVE CONSERVATION FINANCING SCHEME

Rhino Ark participated in the first meeting of the National Technical Working Group on Payment for Ecosystem Services Programme. The Technical Working Group has been set up by the Ministry of Environment and Forestry following the submission of a concept proposal spearheaded by Rhino Ark with support from the Water Resources Authority, Kenya Water Towers Agency, WWF-Kenya and the GNIPlus consortium.

The Technical Working Group includes the lead Government institutions (Treasury, WRA, KFS, KWS, KEFRI, National Museums of Kenya, Kenya Water Towers Agency) as well as USFS International Programme, GNIPlus and Rhino Ark.

The meeting reviewed the concept and the work plan to undertake the feasibility study for establishing a National Payment for Ecosystem Services Scheme.

RHINO ARK RECEIVES DONATION OF FENCE EQUIPMENT FROM INSTARECT

Peter Hays, CEO of Instarect, made a donation of two energizers STAFIX M63R and one inverter/charger EasyPower to Rhino Ark in support of the construction and maintenance of game-proof electric fences.

Rhino Ark Executive Director, Christian Lambrechts, while thanking Instarect and STAFIX for this donation, indicated that “such donation helps in reducing the costs of constructing new fences and makes it possible for Rhino Ark to expand its conservation interventions in the mountain forests of Kenya.”

MEETING RAILA ODINGA ON FOREST CONSERVATION

Rhino Ark Executive Director was invited by Peter Kinyua, Chairman of KFS to meet Hon. Raila Odinga to discuss forest conservation and in particular to increase the forest cover in Kenya. Julius Kamau, Chief Conservator of Forests, also joined the meeting.

The meeting discussed strategic interventions to increase the forest cover, including:

- engaging County Government to sign the Transitional Implementation Plans and building their capacity in tree planting on private and community lands;
- promoting bamboo to rehabilitate key catchment areas and riparian reserves and developing a bamboo industry;
- promoting PPP in forest conservation and replanting through, among others, matching some private funding with government funding;
- banning the use of cedar products, cedar being the most targeted tree species by illegal loggers in protected forests.

KENCHIC SUPPORTS NEW POULTRY PROJECT FOR EBURU FARMERS

KENCHIC Limited and Rhino Ark have partnered to support local Eburu communities' livelihoods. Under this partnership, with support from Rhino Ark, KENCHIC has introduced Eburu farmers to the KENBRO chicken breed. The KENBRO bird is a hardy, free-range bird that is robust to disease. It can be used for subsistence or commercial farming for meat or eggs and provides an alternative to indigenous chicken. It is suitable for farmers who would like to manage their flocks with less intense inputs and have an organic product which has tastier meat.

This pilot project will support 5 farmer groups of up to 10 members each selected from across the Eburu forest adjacent communities in 4 locations.

The engagement commenced with an initial training of 30 farmers on 22 May 2019 at Kongasis, and subsequently an on-farm practical training at Morop. KENCHIC will also donate 500 birds to the farmers, 10 bags of feeds, 5 packets of multivitamins, 5 trays and 5 water drinkers as a starter kit for the farmers.

The farmers have enthusiastically embraced the KENBRO breed: following the training sessions the farmers have built special chicken sheds. The Geertai Self Help Group farmer from Morop even went ahead to purchase 100 chicks at individual level while awaiting the chicks to be donated by KENCHIC.

The Geertai Self Help Group were the first of the 5 selected community groups to receive the chicks and equipment on 11 September. The hand-over of chicks, feeds and equipment was done at Morop, by Stephen Muriithi of KENCHIC and Rhino Ark Eburu Fence/Community Manager Joseph Mutongu. Also participating in the event were three government agricultural officers from Gilgil Sub-County. Rhino Ark works closely with government agricultural officers to ensure that farmers have access to ongoing support and advice for its community livelihood projects.

Speaking during the hand over at Morop, community member Sally Cheriro said, "The training by KENCHIC has been of great impact and we really appreciate the support. We have been raising poultry before but without the right knowledge, and we do appreciate Rhino Ark's support to make this possible. The skills we have acquired will help us improve our livelihoods. I am sure this project will provide us with resources to meet our needs such as school fees. On behalf of my group we appreciate the efforts. Thank you."

hand-over of chicks & starter kit-KENchic

This new initiative adds to the growing number of sustainable alternative community livelihood activities that have been made possible through Rhino Ark's partnership approach.

EBURU CONSERVATION EDUCATION CURRICULUM REVIEW WORKSHOP

Group photo of the Eburu Conservation Education Workshop members.

Since its inception in 2014, the Eburu conservation education programme continues to be a cornerstone of Rhino Ark's outreach work targeting the youth in forest adjacent communities. As part of an iterative process improvement approach, the implementation team periodically takes stock of the programme and identifies emerging needs that need to be responded to. New developments including the roll out of the National Competency Based Curriculum Education System to schools called for a review of the conservation education curriculum.

On 2 August 2019, Rhino Ark facilitated the Eburu Conservation Education Curriculum review workshop in Naivasha. The workshop brought together a 23-member team comprising representatives from Rhino Ark, Ministry of Education Nakuru County Quality Assurance Officer from Naivasha and Gilgil sub-counties, Kenya Wildlife Service (Education Warden-Naivasha), Kenya Forest Service (Eburu Forest Manager) and selected Eburu school teachers implementing the programme. Key issues covered in the workshop included requirements for supplementary conservation teaching materials, training of more conservation teaching staff and how to effectively implement the curriculum.

The implementation of the programme is impacting positively on the schools, and participants observed that conservation knowledge was growing. The introduction of conservation talent events in the schools (including poetry and folk songs) have also enriched the learning experience. Teachers confirmed that student grades in subjects related to conservation such as Science, Agriculture, and Geography have shown improvement. Behaviour change has also been observed within the schools and adjacent communities with regard to application of improved practice in solid waste management.

To further enhance the curricula implementation, the stakeholder team resolved to do regular follow-ups on conservation activities with the help of partners and engage more conservation teaching staff.

LOCAL OGIEK COMMUNITY GROUP RECEIVES HONEY PROCESSING EQUIPMENT DONATION

An indigenous Ogiek community group living adjacent to Eburu forest has received a major boost to their livelihood activities with the donation of honey processing equipment. The donation has been provided by the MPESA Foundation as part of an ongoing engagement to support conservation-compatible local community livelihoods within the Eburu forest landscape. The Ogiek community depend on the forest resources for a number of their livelihood activities, including bee-keeping.

The donation comes at the first year anniversary of the commissioning of the Eburu Ecosystem Conservation Project that was held on 19 June 2018, in which the chief guest was Environment and Forestry Cabinet Secretary, Hon. Keriako Tobiko, accompanied by Nakuru County Governor, Hon. Lee Kinyanjui, MPESA Foundation Executive Director Les Baillie and Rhino Ark Executive Director, Christian Lambrechts. During the 2018 event, the high profile guests visited the homestead of Maseto Kusen, Chairman of the 12-member Naretui Beekeepers Self Help Group. Maseto is the last indigenous Ogiek community member still residing in Eburu forest and a member of the Eburu electric fence maintenance team. During the visit the guests had been briefed on the group's honey production and sampled some of their product. In discussions during that visit, the group requested support in the form of honey processing equipment, and the MPESA Foundation subsequently undertook to support this request.

The MPESA Foundation's commitment was fulfilled on 25 June 2019, when the equipment was formally handed over to the Naretui group by Safaricom Chief Corporate Affairs Officer, Steve Chege. The handing over event, jointly organized by Rhino Ark and Kenya Forest Service, was held at the Eburu Forest station.

Rhino Ark facilitated the procurement and delivery of equipment for honey extraction, processing, and packaging as well as complementary equipment for the production of wax candles, a valuable by-product. This donation builds upon the Eburu bio-enterprise programme established by Rhino Ark in 2014 with funding support from the MPESA Foundation.

The community members were thankful for the equipment donation and applauded Rhino Ark, the government and the MPESA Foundation for recognizing and supporting them. They stated that they will continue with their bee-keeping initiative and supporting the ongoing conservation work in Eburu Forest.

The honey processing equipment for the Naretui group will expand their honey production capacity. Coupled with further advanced training and market linkage to be facilitated by Rhino Ark, it is envisaged that the group significantly enhance their value addition and profitability from this activity.

A joint tree planting between Safaricom Head of Corporate communication Mr. Steve Chege and Mashujaa Ellyanne at MPESA Gate, Eburu Forest.

Efforts to rehabilitate degraded areas of Eburu Forest Reserve received a boost on 25th June 2019, when 7,500 indigenous tree seedlings were planted at Ole Sirwa (MPESA Gate) in the north eastern part of the forest. Over 600 people comprising of members of the local community, staff of the MPESA Foundation, pupils from the MPESA Academy, soldiers of the Kenya Defence Forces (KDF), officers from the Kenya Forest Service (KFS) and the Kenya Wildlife Service (KWS) took part in the tree planting.

Muddy forest tracks and stuck vehicles did not deter the participants, who worked together to ensure that everyone reached the planting site located at the end of the 10km long main forest track. Eburu Forest Manager, Samuel Mundia, demonstrated the tree planting procedure to the participants who then carried out the planting of a 3-hectare degraded area of the forest. The MPESA Foundation team was led by Safaricom's Chief Corporate Affairs Officer, Steve Chege, and the KDF team based at Gilgil were led by Captain Waswa. KWS was represented by Nakuru County Senior Warden Eunice Kiarie.

The tree planting exercise was coordinated by Rhino Ark in partnership with Kenya Forest Service, as part of the ongoing initiative to restore Eburu Forest to its original pristine state. The enthusiasm of the youth was a highlight of the event, with pupils from the MPESA Academy and local communities from Eburu participating vigorously in the tree planting. 8 year-old Ellyanne Wanjiku, award Winning, Climate Crisis Ambassador and Kenya's Youngest Mashujaa title holder, was among the youthful guests who participated in the exercise. In remarks after the tree planting, Steve Chege congratulated the community on their forest conservation efforts, and acknowledged partners involved and the KDF for the good work being done in Eburu forest. He promised to continue supporting the conservation work in the area. Eburu Forest Manager Samuel Mundia expressed his appreciation of the work done by all the partners.

The MPESA Foundation provided funding support for the current tree planting work, which brings to 11 the number of forest hectares rehabilitated by the MPESA Foundation in Eburu Forest.

EBURU FOREST CAMERA TRAPPING STUDY UPDATE

Rhino Ark / Calgary Zoo intensive camera trapping forest study at Eburu Forest, reported to readers in previous editions of ARKive in 2018 and 2019, is now entering its 19th month. At the time of this writing, the field team is boasting of 30 active cameras placed in prime bongo habitat within the fenced forest. They have been able to add just a few more mountain bongo events to the image count. This finding suggests that the surviving population in this ecosystem is critically low. After 18 months they have a total count of just five bongo events from roughly 300,000 wildlife images captured.

They remain optimistic however of additional discoveries. They are in the habit of walking through the forest with their eyes open in search of other signs of bongo. They search for tracks, dung, scratching posts, and more. By adding this evidence to the positive camera results, a picture has emerged of the home range of the remnant bongo population. This information should prove helpful in the future as the idea of translocating captive-bred animals into the Eburu Forest has been suggested by the National Bongo Task Force.

Rhino Ark / Calgary Zoo wondered how the people living closest to the forest would feel about such a bongo re-introduction scheme. Should captive-bred bongo be released into Eburu, conservation success would hinge on the support of local people. The team therefore poled the local population living within 1 kilometer from the forest and determined that they would indeed be in support of the idea (200 people were individually interviewed, and five focus groups, with 30 members in each, were held).

Beyond the mountain bongo story, this work has been gradually painting a picture of the full assemblage of wildlife species of Eburu Forest, and of their relative populations. The monthly review of images captured always leads to much excitement. They have recorded a wide variety of species, suggesting a healthy and vibrant forest.

To date, they have documented the following species (listed here from most abundant to least): bushbuck, blue monkey, black & white colobus, giant forest hog, bush pig, red duiker, Cape buffalo, white-tailed mongoose, blotched genet, leopard, baboon, crested porcupine, hyena, tree hyrax and a variety of forest birds. They have also enjoyed cameo appearances from serval, caracal, dikdik, warthog and waterbuck.

Field work always has its share of challenges, and this study has been no different. Early in the year the team suffered the theft of many of their cameras at the hands of people who clearly did not want them to know what they were doing in the forest! This challenge has not deterred them however, but rather helped them work more closely with the other stakeholders of Eburu Forest, such as the Kenya Wildlife Service, Kenya Forest Service, the traditional Ogiek Honey Harvesting Groups, and the Eburru Rafiki group. They have not had a negative incident since June.

This problem solving also included some creative solutions. They designed some cleverly camouflaged cameras hidden inside dead logs. They would dig out a camera-sized hole in the log, insert the camera in it, and then stand up that log like a still-alive tree. This trick has made cameras more challenging for would-be trouble makers to detect.

The full findings of this lengthy survey will be shared locally with all stakeholders at the end of this year, and again nationally in early 2020 using workshop-style presentations, community meetings and a written report.

MOUNTAIN BONGO RECOVERY AND ACTION PLAN LAUNCHED

The National Recovery and Action Plan for the Mountain Bongo was officially launched by Hon. Najib Balala, Cabinet Secretary for Tourism and Wildlife, at a colorful function hosted at the Mount Kenya Wildlife Conservancy.

The Mountain Bongo, also known as the Eastern Bongo, is a forest-dependent antelope. It is a critically endangered species with less than 100 individuals remaining in the wild in the world. They are only found in Kenya in the dense mountain forests of the Aberdares, Mt. Kenya and the Mau Forests Complex.

In order to spearhead the recovery of the Mountain Bongo in the wild through concerted efforts by all concerned stakeholders, a National Recovery and Action for the Mountain Bongo was developed by Kenya Wildlife Service, together with key partners, including Rhino Ark, Bongo Surveillance Project, Mount Kenya Trust, Mount Kenya Wildlife Conservancy and Ragati Conservancy.

The plan identifies eight key strategic objectives, including (1) securing wild bongo populations through the establishment of Intensive Protection Zones, (2) managing legal activities and stopping illegal human activities that destroy bongo habitat, and (3) optimizing the participation of communities living adjacent to bongo habitat.

The Aberdare Electric Fence, supported by Rhino Ark, has helped tremendously Kenya Wildlife Service in securing the bongo population in the Aberdare Salient. This population is now the largest remaining in the wild and is recovering well with number growing.

The Eburu Electric Fence, also supported by Rhino Ark, provides increased security for the small group of bongos residing in the 8,700 hectares forest. This forest will eventually become a Bongo Sanctuary, adding much value to the tourism potential of the ecosystem.

The engagement of the communities in the building and maintenance of the fences, in forest patrols (community scouts), through the development and implementation of conservation curricula, as well as through support to the establishment and running of bongo clubs in schools, is assisting in securing the support of the local communities in the conservation of the bongos and their habitats.

REHABILITATING OLD FOREST PLANTATIONS WITH INDIGENOUS TREES

Rhino Ark together with the Mount Kenya Conservation Forum, Kenya Forest Service, Kenya Wildlife Service and the local communities replanted 10,000 indigenous trees in Nanyuki Forest Station to rehabilitate 5 hectares of forest plantations now earmarked to be converted back to indigenous forest.

Rhino Ark has taken the lead in rehabilitating forest plantations on the western slopes whilst supporting the Mount Kenya Trust in similar activities on the northern slopes and the Imenti Forest.

Many thanks to all the partners for their support.

REHABILITATING MT KENYA FOREST

Rhino Ark, together with Kenya Forest Service, Mount Kenya Conservation Forum, Kenya Wildlife Service, Kenya Defence Forces and the local Community Forest Association, recently planted 12,000 indigenous trees in Nanyuki Forest Station. This is part of a long-term programme supported by Rhino Ark to rehabilitate degraded forest areas and former forest plantations on Mt. Kenya. This year in June another 10,000 indigenous were planted in the same area.

MT. KENYA FENCE TEAM KITTED UP

Mt Kenya fence team receive working gears.

In readiness to the rainy season, Rhino Ark supplied working gears for fence attendants working along the Imenti fenceline in Mt. Kenya. The uniform included: overall, rain coat, mud boots and sweaters. Previously the fence maintenance team had received a consignment of working tools that included digital voltmeters, single strainers, hammers and slashers just to name a few.

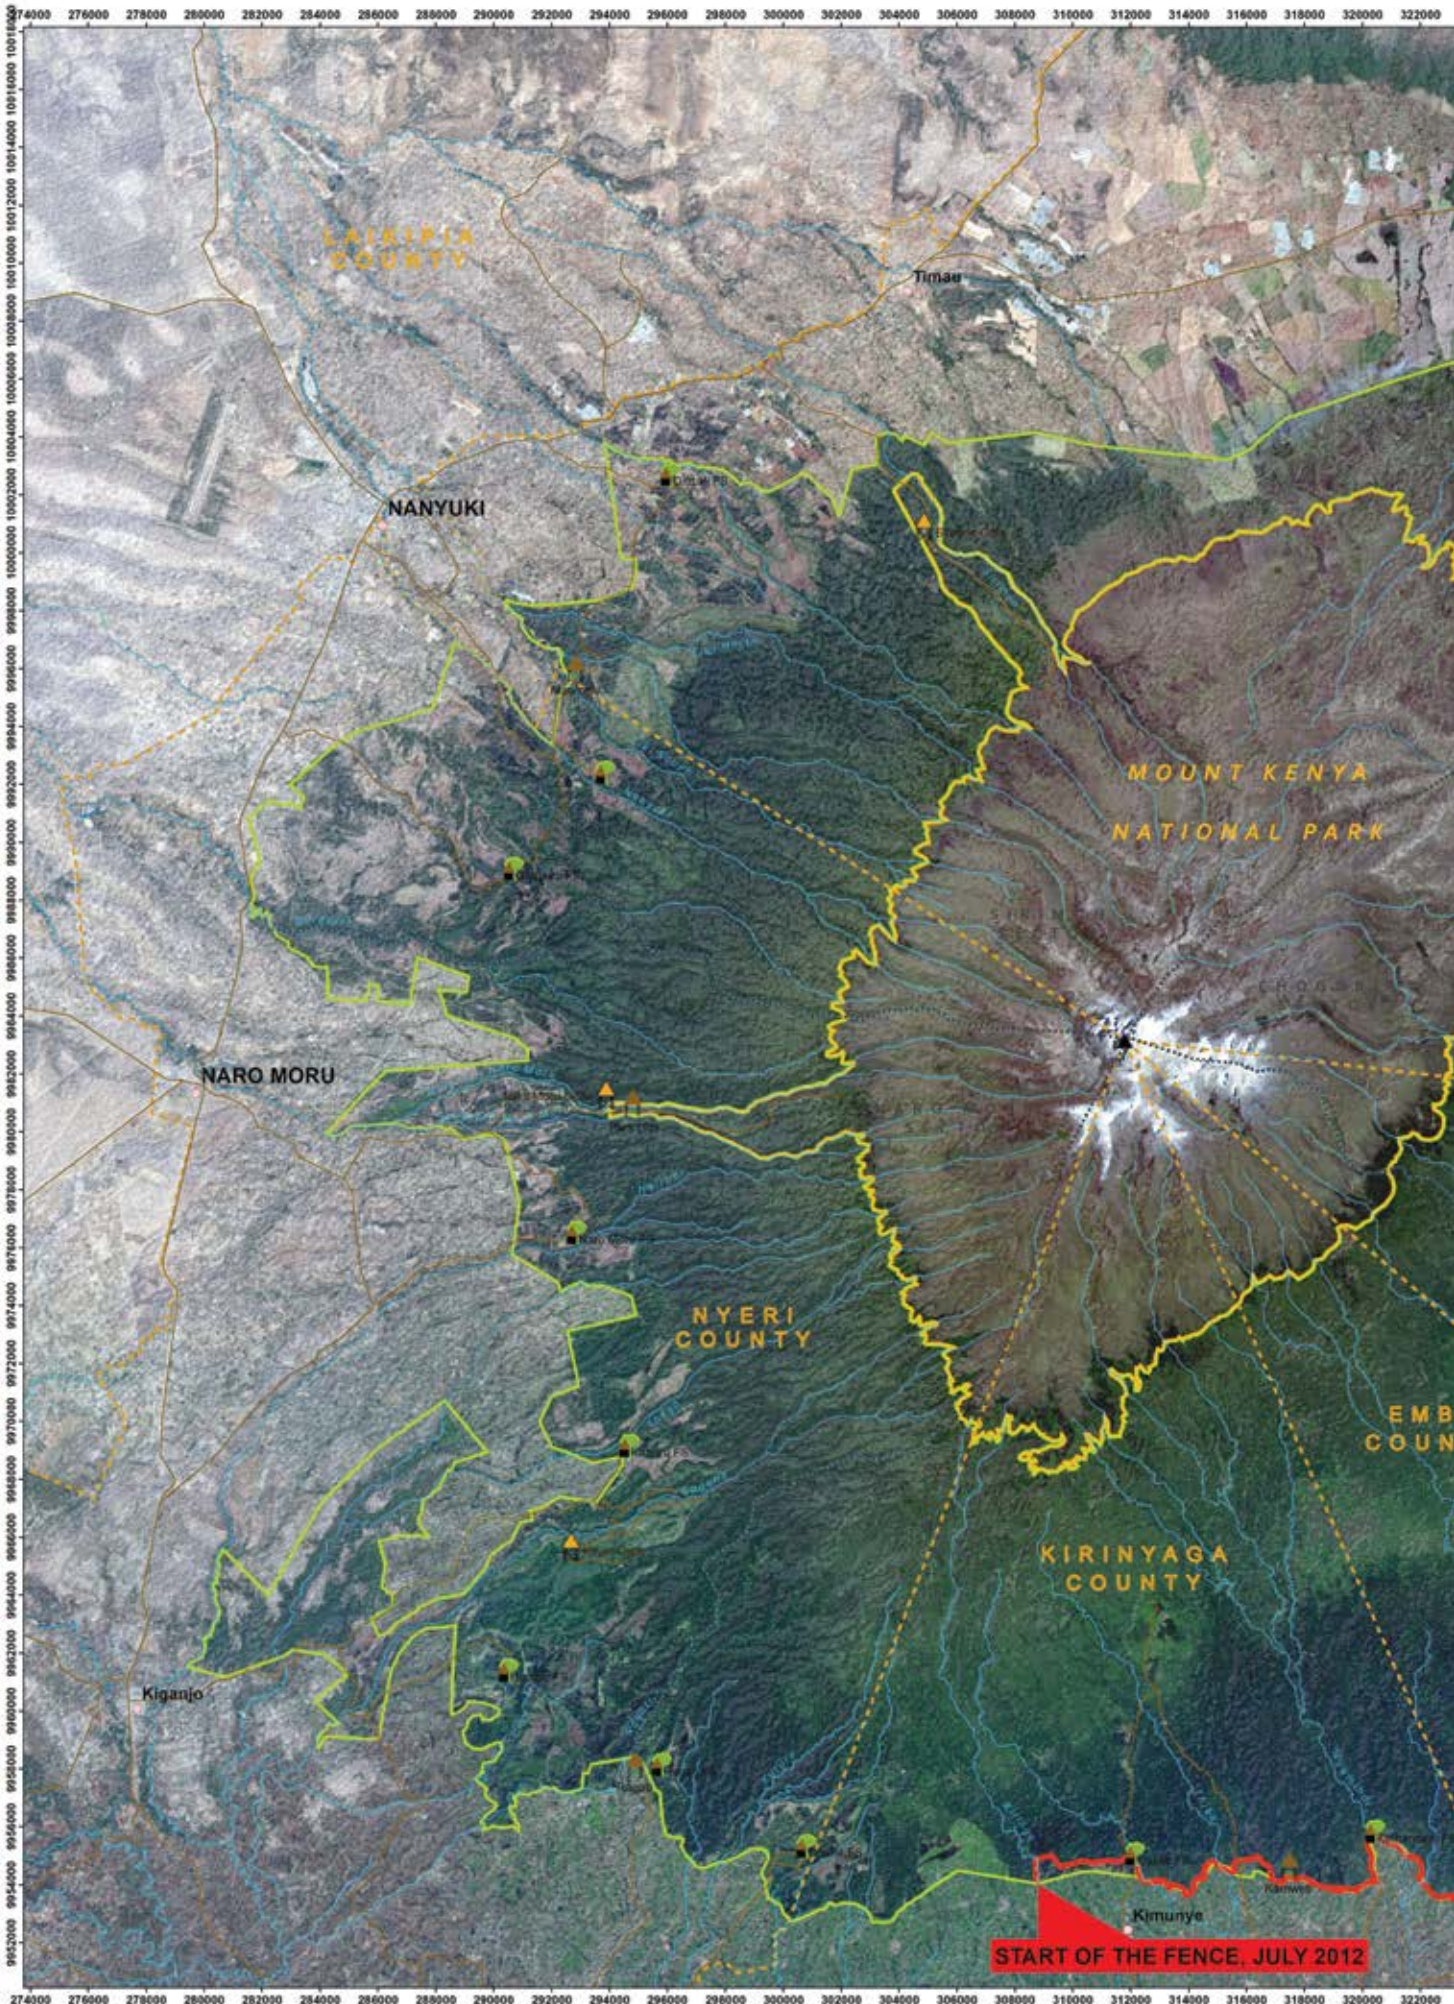

Having a well-equipped and motivated fence maintenance team along the Imenti fenceline is crucial as Imenti has the highest density of elephants in the entire Mt. Kenya Forest ecosystem.

“We are delighted to receive these uniforms. These are not just protective gears but a uniform to distinguish us from members of the local community, God bless the Rhino Ark,” said Michael Mwaura the fence attendant in-charge of Kithoka fenceline.

2019 ABERDARE FENCE RELAY RUN

The ninth edition of the Aberdare Fence Relay Run was completed in July during a ceremony in the Aberdare National Park involving hundreds of pupils and teachers. The baton of the relay run that went around the entire 400-kilometre fence was received by Jim Nyamu, Founder and Director of the Elephant Neighbors Center.

60 schools located in the five counties surrounding the Aberdare ecosystem participated in the Fence Relay Run that was flagged off on 23rd May. Over 600 pupils took part in the event.

In addition, 110 schools participated in an Essay Competition that comprised of two categories – Teachers' and Pupils' category. Pupils wrote essays on the Importance of Aberdare Forest/Ecosystem while the teachers wrote on the Challenges teachers face while educating the pupils and the community on environmental conservation.

From the essays, it appeared clearly that pupils do understand the importance of Aberdare Ecosystem ranging from hydrological cycle, carbon sequestration, climate amelioration – all supporting their well-being and economic development - and also the fact that Aberdare is an important biodiversity area.

In their essays, the teachers highlighted the key challenges they face while disseminating conservation education.

AERIAL SURVEY OF NORTHERN ABERDARE REVEALED REDUCTION IN ILLEGAL LOGGING

Rhino Ark, together with Kenya Forest Service and Kenya Wildlife Service, undertook an aerial surveillance flight above the northern part of the Aberdare ecosystem, in Nyandarua County. The flight covered Gakanga, Embaringo, Mugunda, Rhino Gate, Kamiruri, Gathariga, Pesi, Shamata, Sophia and Wanjohi, as well as the upper catchments of Malewa River. In the flight were Simon Gitau, KWS Assistant Director, Lilian Ajuoga, KWS Senior Warden / Aberdare National Park, Stanley Mwangi, KFS Assistant Head of Conservancy, Christian Lambrechts, Rhino Ark Executive Director and Adam Mwangi, Rhino Ark Fence and Community Manager / Aberdares and Mt. Kenya.

A marked reduction in illegal logging activities, in particular Cedar trees, was noted during the surveillance flight. There are still, however, some persistent illegal activities on the escarpment near Sophia and Wanjohi.

After the flight, a debriefing meeting was held during which joint interventions were agreed upon to address the observed threats.

ABERDARE JOINT SURVEILLANCE UNIT (AJSU) RECEIVES A BRAND NEW 4X4 VEHICLE

The Aberdare Joint surveillance Unit is a community-based initiative launched in 2010 that engages forest-adjacent community members in the protection of the Aberdare ecosystems. The unit comprises of 8 community scouts fully geared-up to patrol the ecosystems, deter illegal activities, collect scientific data, monitor the status of the fence and fight forest fires. It is a joint partnership that brings together Rhino Ark, Kenya Wildlife Service, Kenya Forest Service and the local communities. AJSU is fully financed by Rhino Ark while day-to-day operations of the unit are managed by both KWS and KFS.

On 20th August, 2019 the AJSU team received a brand new 4X4 Toyota Land Cruiser courtesy of the Rhino Ark. While receiving the new vehicle the Aberdare National Park Deputy Warden, Mr. Moses Omurabi, said “ on behalf of the Kenya Wildlife Service we do appreciate the immense support we have been receiving from Rhino Ark. This new vehicle will go a long way to support us in the conservation of the Aberdare ecosystem. The AJSU is force multiplier and the impact of their work is felt on the ground. Owing to the vastness of Aberdare ecosystem, the security personnel are thinly spread and therefore AJSU is helping to close the gap [...] Immediately after this ceremony, I am dispatching this vehicle to the southern Aberdare where AJSU team is currently undertaking security operations.....”

The Executive Director Rhino Ark on his part expressed the desire of Rhino Ark to further strengthen AJSU team by recruiting a second surveillance team.

The chairman of ChallengeAid Africa - Martyn Ryan accompanied by the CEO of ChallengeAid- lestin Thomas and supporters of ChallengeAid, Anne Ryan and Veronica Mathias recently visited Tetu Primary School in Nyeri county. ChallengeAid is a charitable trust based in the UK. It works with various partners, including Rhino Ark, to establish centres where learners converge to undertake private studies and do homework after the normal school hours. These centres are dubbed as 'Schools Of Hope' (SOH). The trust also promotes talent development in terms of sports- rugby, volleyball, football, cricket and chess. In addition, students participate in music, drama and creative art. In support of conservation, each school has established a conservation corner where trees are planted and well nurtured.

The main aims of the meeting were:

- To conduct a brief presentation on the partnership between Rhino Ark, ChallengeAid and the schools;
- To conduct presentations from supervisors of each SOH with a focus on the impact of SOH;
- To provide a forum for the learners to give testimonials on how they benefited from the project.

Beaming with joy, Jecinta Wanjiku said, “I am a beneficiary of SOH- Njogu-uni Primary School and currently a high school student at one of the giant schools in Nyeri county. Before I joined the SOH I was poor in grammar, composition writing and Kiswahili but soon after joining the SOH I witnessed a tremendous improvement. We formed study groups that helped us learn from each other. When I sat for my KCPE in 2018, I won a highly coveted scholarship that sponsors my entire school fees in high school. Thank you ChallengeAid”.

SCHOOLS CONSERVATION EDUCATION LEARNING KICKS OFF

Raising conservation awareness amongst the youth is a key goal of the South Western Mau Ecosystem Conservation Project. Towards achieving this goal, Rhino Ark has facilitated the development of a comprehensive conservation education curricula for 46 schools (both primary and secondary) found within 8 kilometers of the forest boundary. These schools lie within the crucial impact zone of forest adjacent communities that relate most closely with the South Western Mau Forest Reserve.

Implementation of teaching of the curricula content commenced in Term 2 of 2019, following completion of training of teachers in the schools and distribution of the curricula to schools. The roll out of this initiative will complement other conservation work by Rhino Ark, by equipping the learners with better understanding of their natural environment and encouraging them to interact sustainably with their habitat.

In addition to monitoring the curricula implementation, the Rhino Ark outreach team will play a long-term role of providing technical support to the implementing schools and mentoring the teaching staff and pupils in best practices in conservation.

SCHOOLS SUSTAINABLE ENERGY PROGRAMME KICKS OFF IN SCHOOLS

Sustainable energy programme rolled out in schools.

Sustainable energy programme rolled out in schools.

Many local schools in the South Western Mau ecosystem use firewood and charcoal for cooking for their pupils. As such, schools are a bulk user of fuelwood. The extensive use of fuelwood by communities generally, and institutions in particular is a source of pressure on forest resources. A school survey carried out by Rhino Ark in 2018 covering 46 forest adjacent schools found that approximately 75 tons of firewood are consumed each month.

The SW Mau Ecosystem Conservation Project aims to support reduction in use of fuelwood through, among other elements, the adoption of more energy efficient stoves and production of charcoal at domestic level from on-farm woody biomass using special charcoal making kilns.

With funding support from the Safaricom Foundation under the Initiative for Sustainable Landscapes programme, Rhino Ark has procured 15 large energy saving stoves and 15 large capacity charcoal making kilns as a pilot sustainable energy project. The stoves and kilns have been provided to 15 selected forest adjacent schools.

Following groundwork by the Rhino Ark outreach team, the alternative energy programme formally kicked off in May 2019. Delivery of the kilns was followed by technical training provided to a pool of local community champions and school teachers in the schools that have received the stove/kiln kits

SURVEILLANCE FLIGHT ABOVE SOUTH WESTERN MAU REVEALED IMPROVEMENT

Rhino Ark, together with IDH/ISLA and James Finlays Ltd surveillance flight above South Western Mau and part of Western Mau on 9 October.

Rhino Ark, together with Kenya Forest Service and Kenya Wildlife Service and in partnership with IDH/ISLA and James Finlays Ltd, undertook an aerial surveillance flight above the 60,000-hectare South Western Mau Forest Reserve and part of the adjacent Western Mau Forest Reserve. The flight is part of monitoring programme by which surveillance flights are carried out every quarter.

The flight revealed a marked improvement in the number of livestock and logging activities in the forest. Illegal charcoal production is still a threat, although at a lower level. There were, however, new bomas observed in the forest, indicating that part of the livestock resides in the forest.

Following the flight, a debriefing session between the partners took place, during which specific interventions were agreed upon to address the observed threats to the conservation of the forest.

The rehabilitation of degraded areas of the South Western Mau Forest Reserve is a mammoth undertaking. Various stakeholder institutions under the Initiative for Sustainable Landscapes (ISLA) forum have come together to pool their resources and expertise to support this important initiative, with Rhino Ark among the partners involved in this ongoing work.

On 31 July 2019, Rhino Ark Executive Director Christian Lambrechts joined the Kenya Forest Service Chief Conservator of Forests Julius Kamau and other ISLA partners for a ceremonial tree planting event at Kures forest rehabilitation site. This site is located along the eastern forest “cut-line” demarcation within the Ndoinet Forest block, and is the most recent location for forest rehabilitation work under the ISLA initiative. The ceremonial tree planting occasion saw an impressive turn out of ISLA partners (including IDH, KTDA, Nyayo Tea Zones, Ogiek Council of Elders and the Community Forest Association), national administration officials, the area Member of County Assembly and local community members.

Prior to the tree planting, the Rhino Ark Executive Director and KFS Chief Conservator of Forests (CCF) had an opportunity to carry out an aerial surveillance flight over key parts of the extensive forest. The flight, coordinated by Rhino Ark, assessed the threats to the forest in the form of illegal activities. In remarks following the flight and planting ceremony, the CCF observed that there was a marked reduction in illegal forest activities. He urged the community to embrace forest conservation and a tree planting culture for a healthier ecosystem, and assured the community of KFS commitment towards the signing of Forest Management Agreements (FMA) for the Participatory Forest Management Plan.

Commenting on the issue of youth unemployment raised by a youth representative, the CCF reported that the previously suspended Nyayo Tea Zone work would resume. This development will provide further community livelihood improvement opportunities and help to maintain the forest edge buffer between human activity and forest conservation.

ENGAGING THE YOUTH IN CONSERVATION

Youth Conservation Engagement Strategy meeting at Keringet on 30 July 2019.

Engaging the youth is a critical pillar of the conservation process, as youth make up the largest demographic in the community. This is particularly important in the vulnerable South Western Mau Forest Ecosystem which forms the upper catchment of the Sondu Miriu River basin. It has been observed that the participation rates of youth in conservation activity have been relatively low, an issue that requires attention.

Towards enhancing youth participation in conservation, the Rhino Ark outreach team conducted an inception Youth Conservation Engagement Strategy meeting at Keringet on 30 July 2019. The meeting was attended by 7 youth representatives from 7 zones covering the forest adjacent communities. Also attending were representatives of the local administration – the area chiefs from Kiptororo and Tinet locations, the Assistant County Commissioner Kuresoi South Sub-County, Kenya Forest Service Ndoinet Forest Manager and Chairman of the Ndoinet Community Forest Association (CFA).

The youth were briefed on Rhino Ark's conservation projects in South Western Mau, and on forestry matters by the Ndoinet forest manager. The briefs provided the youth with important context on the status of conservation in the area and how they can be fully involved in conservation activity. Group discussions and presentations also formed part of the meeting's proceedings.

The highly productive forum proved to be an eye-opener for the youth. From plenary discussions, the participants resolved to have regular follow-ups on grass-root outreach meetings, engaging with local religious leaders. The meeting also resolved to recognize the activities done by youth groups in conservation, and to build capacity amongst the youth. A report on the meeting was compiled and will form a basis for further follow up actions.

In closing remarks, the Chairman of the Ndoinet Community Forest Association, Samuel Murindany said, "This is my first time to attend such an interactive conservation meeting. This is an eye opener to me and the CFA. We need to review our CFA rules and regulations to accommodate our youth. It is true we had not thought of what happens to the CFA after we are gone. Also, today's meeting has given me chance to meet our partners in conservation and I have known that I am not alone in the field and I have been given a chance to air my concerns which I am sure will be addressed fully. Much appreciation to Rhino Ark for thinking of such forums."

KAKAMEGA ECOSYSTEM

KAKAMEGA FENCE PROJECT HAS STARTED

Rhino Ark Executive Director Christian Lambrechts lent a new Toyota Land Cruiser to Peter Mwangi, Head of the EIA Section at the Kenya Wildlife Service (KWS), to undertake the Environmental and Social Impact Assessment (ESIA) of the fencing of Kakamega Forest.

This is part of an integrated project aiming to fence and conserve Kakamega Forest, which has been spearheaded by Rhino Ark with support from the County Governments of Kakamega and Vihiga, the Ministry of Environment and Forestry, Kenya Forest Service, Kenya Wildlife Service and the local communities.

ESIA STUDY OF THE PROPOSED KAKAMEGA FENCE PROGRESSING WELL

In the month of September, the team conducting the Environmental and Social Impact Assessment (ESIA) study consulted with stakeholders, in particular local communities, on the proposed fencing of Kakamega Forest.

Consultations to date have included:

- (a) meetings with the Governor of Kakamega County and with the Governor of Vihiga County;
- (b) meetings with the County Government of Kakamega and the County Government of Vihiga;
- (c) meeting with the Chiefs from the location surrounding Kakamega Forest;
- (d) barazas with the local communities in Shamiloli, Mahiakalo, Senyende, Lianungu, Virhembe, Iloro, Ivihiga, Chirobani, Irakale, Shanderema, Buyangu and Lubao;
- (e) two workshops with other stakeholders in Kakamega and in Vihiga.

The ESIA study is led by an experienced registered EIA expert from Kenya Wildlife Service and includes experts in the areas of forest ecology, biology, community development, sociology, fence and Geographical Information System (GIS). The study is financed by Rhino Ark.

FEEDBACK AND TESTIMONIALS

ERICK MURIUKI, FENCE ATTENDANT ALONG LOWER IMENTI FENCE LINE, MT. KENYA ECOSYSTEM

“My farm lies adjacent to Kamutune elephant corridor joining Mount Kenya and Isiolo-Shaba landscape and before the Rhino Ark Fence was built we suffered so much from raids by elephants.

One evening I was coming home from Ruiru shopping centre only to bump into a lone elephant bull that charged at me. I escaped death by a whisker...but today it is a different story...I am a double beneficiary of this project- my farm and family is secure and I got a job to take care of the fence along our village. God bless all supporters of Rhino Ark and KWS”.

MZEE THURANIRA, 89 YEARS OLD, MT. KENYA ECOSYSTEM

“My farm neighbors Mt. Kenya Forest and my fellow villagers have always regarded this forest as ‘Mutitu Wa Ngoma’ (Forest filled with evil spirits). Elephants raided my farm and this made me to result to cultivation of tea bushes.

I completely abandoned growing food crops owing to the losses caused by elephants. The only river crossing that elephants use to cross River Kathita is next to my farm and that’s why we used to have high incidences of raids by elephants. I am very excited to see this fencing project and the former ‘Mutitu Wa Ngoma’ will no longer be a source of our suffering but a source of joy”.
